You Deserve This Gift

Get the facts, live longer, & smile more!

We have all heard it said that a smile comes from the heart, but did you know that your smile has heart-healthy benefits? Although it is not entirely understood, science has identified a strong link between poor oral health and some chronic conditions, including heart disease.

Here's how you could be affected...

- It is theorized that bacteria entering the bloodstream from infected gums attach to fatty plaques in the coronary arteries causing clots to form. When a clot breaks free, it can cause a heart attack.
- Gum disease is also thought to increase production of arterial plaques and may contribute directly to the swelling of the arteries.
- Research shows that those with advanced gum disease are almost twice as likely to be afflicted with coronary heart disease.

- Conditions like diabetes, Alzheimer's, and a host of respiratory ailments are being strongly associated with poor oral health.
- Pregnant women with serious gum infections are seven times more likely to have an underweight or premature baby.

Your heart ... your lungs ... your children. Three powerful incentives for treatment and prevention.

Three powerful reasons you can't just guess about it. You need to know if you have gum disease...

Call (215) 619-6756 and schedule an appointment today. We will provide a comprehensive oral examination and make heart-felt recommendations that you can trust.

Your Good Word

Our inspiration

From the moment you call our practice or step through our doors we want your experience, whether from a personal or a professional perspective, to be something worth smiling about. There is no more powerful promotion than a good word, so it is our goal that everyone goes away eager to tell family and friends about the calibre of treatment you receive at Dr. Dudhat's office. We consider your referrals of such importance that we are offering incentives just for mentioning us to others. When you refer new patients, ask that they mention your name because when you honor our team of dental professionals in this important way, it is our honour to give you a little something in return.

Thanks to all for your excellent referrals. Your good word is our inspiration to excel.

The whole staff made me feel at ease and provided me with a pleasant experience. I would highly recommend this practice.
- Carolyn K

All staff is professional, competent, courteous and welcoming. Our first visits (my son, husband and I) after 26 years with a prior dental practice all went great. We felt the dentist was giving each of us all the options and best recommendations for our issues (chipped tooth, dead tooth, ailing crown, bridge - misfit, fillings.) The receptionist/assistant was especially courteous and friendly. We are very glad we selected D3 Dental.
