

Comparison of Common Radiation Doses

Dose is in microsieverts (µSv), a unit which expresses the effect of radiation on body tissues

Recommended dose limits of the NCRP (National Council on Radiation Protection and Measurement)

- 50,000 µSv/year for clinical staff working with radiation
- 1,000 µSv/year for general public (e.g., family member in waiting area or accompanying patient in operatory)