Solution...Anxiety Free Dentistry

We are proud to create safe and welcoming dental experiences for high fear patients. Anxiety free dentistry, also known as conscious sedation induces an altered state of consciousness that minimizes discomfort during your dental procedures. Dr. DeForno has received specialized training and certification to administer nitrous oxide, oral sedation and IV sedation. Conscious sedation allows patients to recover quickly and resume normal daily activities in a short period of time.

"I was very relaxed during my appointment but didn't feel drugged. I didn't know what was going on most of the time...I truly felt like I was in a dental spa. Everyone was very attentive to me and my needs. I had no anxiety before, during or after my procedure. My family was so impressed with my treatment and how well I did."—Cheryl
