

AC Dental Esthetic Institute

YOUR PARTNER FOR A BEAUTIFUL SMILE

Which of these images will leave patient's with a bad first impression of your practice?

If they are like the millions of people who visit their dentist on a daily basis you chose the picture on the left, but that doesn't have to be the case any longer. Let AC Dental Esthetic Institute demonstrate how you can eliminate this first bad impression while increasing patient satisfaction and comfort.

Not just digital ...iTero

The Cadent iTero digital impression system for unmatched precision and accuracy

The only digital impression system that:

- Features proprietary scanning technology capable of fabricating all types of dental restorations
- Eliminates the need to coat the teeth with powder prior to scanning
- Utilizes disposable imaging tips ensuring a sanitary procedure
- 99% of impressions are captured perfectly the first time
- A complete scan takes only 3 to 5 minutes – about the time required for conventional impression materials to set up

AC Dental Esthetic Institute has been an industry leading full service laboratory for over 30 years. We have been at the forefront of all the new technology that has helped changed the dental profession. In 1970 AC Dental was the one of the first laboratories in the United States to work with non-precious metal for fabricating PFM crowns. We were among the first laboratories to experiment with dental implants and were involved with some of the ground breaking technology occurring at the time. In 2002 we were one of the original laboratories in the United States to install the Cercon all ceramic system which enabled us to fabricate metal free all ceramic bridges as large as 38mm. When Nobel Biocare introduced their Procera all-ceramic system we were the first laboratory in New Jersey to integrate this new cad/cam technology. Our experience and expertise in the medium now enables us to provide doctors with 16 unit all-ceramic bridges along with implant abutments and a full line of laminate veneers. This expertise along with our unmatched customer service is why our doctors view us as a business partner rather than just another vendor.
