

The Most Expensive Dentistry

This is another reminder that the most expensive dentistry is the dentistry you didn't need or dentistry that could have been avoided. Go to our website, www.jtimrainey.com, click on "Meet Dr. Rainey", click on the video that has gone viral.

One of the signs of a downturn in the economy is an uptick in our free "Second Opinion" appointments. Last year the most egregious attempt to defraud a patient by a dentist was a diagnosis of "three crowns and three root canals" that were simply unjustifiable and unneeded. If you have seen another dentist after having seen us or one of the five other dentists under my supervision in the Shepherd's George West or Beeville clinics, your teeth should have needed minimal care. If you are being pressured to have expensive and extensive work done and your instinctive radar goes off, particularly if you are newly covered by dental insurance, come back and see us for a free second opinion, and welcome back! If the chewing surface of the teeth need minor repair, it may be covered under our professional lifetime warranty at no charge to you.

We are now seeing our past patients on an almost weekly basis for "Second Opinions", and the vast majority of the time the treatment plans they bring from other dentists have procedures that are not just a simple matter of professional disagreement, but are out right attempts to defraud patients of their teeth, health, and money. We are one of the practices dedicated to helping patients of all ages (starting with infants and kids) maintain their teeth for a lifetime. We do this through prevention, early diagnosis, and Minimally Invasive Preventive Dentistry™, a concept so unique to this profession that we have claimed a trademark. Come see us. We will take good care of you and your loved ones.

You can see the most recent pictures regarding a "Second Opinion" on our website under the "Second Opinion" section. This opinion article and more opinion articles on conditions affecting the teeth are available on the www.jtimrainey.com website.
