ABOUT YOUR INSURANCE BENEFITS (Broken Appointments)

Benefit coverage is a contract between yourself, the insurance company and your employer, not the dentist.

Dental benefit companies do not inform dental offices of changes to your policy.

Dental benefits do not cover 100% of your dentistry.

We encourage our patients to know their plan, in order to eliminate disappointments with payment and reimbursement.

In order to keep our procedure fees reasonable and provide the highest quality dental work, our office asks our patients to be responsible for all laboratory fees associated with your treatment.

Often insurance companies are sending back approvals with requests for cheaper, alternative treatment plans. Our office is happy to discuss any alternatives and choices with our treatment plan prior to treatment.

Insurance benefits are estimates and there is no guarantee of payment until they receive a claim. If your insurance company pays less than expected, you as the patient are responsible for any differences they do not cover. Balances after 60 days become the patient's responsibility and are due in full.

It is your responsibility to make sure you are assigned to our office if your insurance requires you to do so. If at the time of service you are not eligible in our office you will be responsible for the full usual and customary fees.

Broken appointment without a 24 hours notice will carry a $100.00 charge. Three broken appointments without a 24 hrs notice will force us to ask you to leave our practice.

I have read and understand my responsibility for my dental insurance benefits.

The Dental Board of California DENTAL MATERIALS FACT SHEET

Adopted by the Board on October 17, 2001

As required by Chapter 801, Statutes of 1992, the Dental Board of California has prepared this fact sheet to summarize information on the most frequently used restorative dental materials. Information on this fact sheet is intended to encourage discussion between the patient and dentist regarding the selection of dental materials best suited for the patient's dental needs. It is not intended to be a complete guide to dental materials science.

The most frequently used materials in restorative dentistry are amalgam, composite resin, glass ionomer cement, resin-ionomer cement, porcelain (ceramic), porcelain (fused-to-metal), gold alloys (noble) and nickel or cobalt-chrome (base-metal) alloys. Each material has its own advantages and disadvantages, benefits and risks. These and other relevant factors are compared in the attached matrix titled materials used to restore the teeth. All materials commonly used (and listed in this fact sheet) have been shown – through laboratory and clinical research, as well as through extensive clinical use – to be safe and effective for the general population. The presence of these materials in the teeth does not cause adverse health problems for the majority of the population. There exist a diversity of various scientific opinions regarding the safety of mercury dental amalgams. The research literature in peer-reviewed scientific journals suggests that otherwise healthy women, children and diabetics are not at increased risk for exposure to mercury from dental amalgams. Although there are various opinions with regard to mercury risk in pregnancy, diabetes, and children, these opinions are not scientifically conclusive and therefore the dentist may want to discuss these opinions with their patients. There is no research evidence that suggests pregnant women, diabetics and children are at increased health risk from dental amalgam fillings in their mouth. A recent study reported in the JADA factors in a reduced tolerance (1/50th of the WHO safe
